

ALONG AT THE BOW.—Two gentlemen—a sailor, though, would call them both land-lubbers—were watching a few lights ago, the motions of a craft, dimly seen through the darkness. "She's going out!" said one; "She's coming in," replied the other, "don't you see the light? She carries a light at her bow."

So indeed she was, and so did they, and there on, before, blazed a beautiful wake of red light, glowing over the water, like an October moon. A wake before! An approaching steamer is not the only craft that makes a pair of wakes. Every dawning truth, every new discovery, flings away of light before it, no matter from what point it comes, and no matter who guides it.

Everybody's mind should be "a port of entry," and everybody a lookout. In almost every department of human thought and enterprise, the world has been looking at the stars. Lights too long, and it was a great day for free-investigation, when somebody discovered "the light at the bow."

CATTLE ORDINANCE.—In this country, where our rulers will not, the people will pass salutary laws. The Common Council have been prouder to for a long time to stop cattle driving in the streets, particularly on Sunday, but the prayer of the people was unheeded. The cattle drivers are about to accomplish this most desirable object by another course, their agreement, under the head of Cattle Market on page 2, to change the market day from Monday to Tuesday. This will accomplish the object, and give the people quiet Sabbath, instead of the nuisance they have long endured. To this reform noisy minority are opposed, but we are assured that the people of this City will support the drivers, and if the opponents are not satisfied to give up Sunday driving, the people will demand and will have an ordinance against driving any day in the week. Let us stick for the Tuesday market, at all events.

COLUMBIA COLLEGE.—The Professorship of "Natural Philosophy and Chemistry" in Columbia College, made vacant by the resignation of Prof. Brewick, still remains unfilled. No new man, indeed, of proper self-estimation, would undesignately assume the post so long and so ably filled by Prof. R., and few, with a proper regard for their own reputation, would at this day undertake to teach prop- oly both the above comprehensive but little allied departments. The Trustees should divide them and form two distinct Professorships. An alumnus of the College is of course desired. Prof. Gillespie, whose name was suggested, has declined the nomination, preferring to remain in his present post at Union College; and we believe the most prominent candidate at present is Prof. Wolcott Gibbs, of the Free Academy.

ELECTION OF FIRE-WARDEN.—A meeting of the Representatives of the New York Fire Department was held at Firemen Hall, last evening, for the purpose of electing a Fire Warden, who will remember that another Mass Meeting will be held on Friday Evening next, at Castle Garden. They will be seated there, and then, I suppose, will be called upon to decide who will go to the meeting with a determination of transacting the business dispassionately and with all possible dispatch. Persons who are anxious to be elected, will do well to get in touch with their friends, who will do well to purchase their tickets for the meeting, as all tickets remaining would after that time, will be sold out at Auction, and a premium demanded on all bids.

FIREMAN'S GIFT ENTERPRISE.—Shardholders in this state will remember that another Mass Meeting will be held on Friday Evening next, at Castle Garden. They will be seated there, and then, I suppose, will be called upon to decide who will go to the meeting with a determination of transacting the business dispassionately and with all possible dispatch.
